Hon. J. E. Brownlee to Speak at Stony Plain.

The posters are out for the public meeting which will be held in Moose Hall, Stony Plain, on the afternoon of Saturday, April 2d, under the auspices of Stony Plain Local of the U.F.A. The Hon J E Brownlee will be the principal speaker, and no doubt a large crowd will turn out to hear the Premier of Alberta give a review of current events. Mr Donald MacLeod, our Assemblyman, is also billed to speak.

The organ of a movement which is responsible for large activities in more than a dozen important fields will be unable to give to any one of them more than a small fraction of the space which their importance warrants.

The Juniors Play in the City

Stony's Junior hockeyists played their return game with the 49th Juniors at the Arena on Sunday afternoon. The Edmontonian players proved to be a little too good for the Stonyites; but the latter succeeded in getting a goal from the hour's play; this goal being scored by George Miller. The boys who went in were: H Oatway, Max Larson, Geo Miller, Eddie Mayer, Art Davies, Otto Miller, Oscar Oppertshausen, A Willie.

Evansburg vs. Wabamun

There having been considerable controversy recently between the admirers of the Evansburg hockey players and the Wabamun team as to the respective merits of each, and as to the ability of one to conquer the other; so much so, that, to decide the respective merits of the two groups of players, a purse of $100.00 was raised, to be competed for on neutral ice.

Stony rink was picked on, and on Sunday afternoon the players and a big bunch of their followers from the two towns met here. The play seemed to be all Evansburg's way from the start. The final score was 5 to 2 for the Mining town players against the Wabbits.

J P Miller and Ph Enders were the judges, and received the thanks of both managers for their impartial service.

The Problem Of Debt

The one question, above all others in importance, that is engaging the attention of the people of Western Canada, and of the farming class in particular, is as to how they are going to pay their accumulated burden of debt. As a result of drought conditions extending over two and three years with partial or complete crop failures, and with prevailing world prices for such crops, live stock, dairy and poultry products as they did produce below the actual cost of production, tens of thousands of farmers have been forced to use all the reserves they may have had, and have gone deeply into debt.

They find themselves in the position, where, having purchased land and equipment during the war years, and in the post-war period when high prices prevailed, and when wheat sold around $1.50 to $2.00 a bushel, they are now being required to pay these inflated obligations with wheat at 50 cents a bushel, and in thousands of instances with no wheat at all to sell. Instead, therefore, of being able to gradually get out of debt, they find themselves getting deeper and deeper into debt, with little or no prospect of ever being able in their lifetime to get free of it.

Consequently, the relationship of themselves to their various creditors, the appalling interest payments confronting them, the practical impossibility of meeting their obligations, and the alternative possibility of losing their homes, constitutes a veritable nightmare of worry. They feel themselves confronted with the probability that, in the event of harvesting a good, or even fair crop, this fall, their creditors will swoop down on them and gobble everything up, thus leaving them in their present predicament of having nothing wherewith to maintain their families in decency and comfort and "carry on."

So, inevitably and naturally, everybody is seeking for a solution, and suggestions without number are being advanced. Many, of course, are utterly impracticable; others are economically unsound and would ultimately result in intensifying the difficulty rather than solving it; others, again, offer some hope.

It will be recalled that, following the war, Germany adopted policies which resulted in converting hundreds of millions of marks issued during the war to its own people into so many worthless pieces of paper. France deliberately depreciated its own currency, the franc, to such a low figure as to accomplish the same result. In its present financial emergency, Great Britain went off the gold standard and its money took a tremendous drop in value almost overnight. Now the United States, also faced with a financial emergency, has gone in for "inflation" of its currency, or "reflation," as they are now pleased to term it, with a view to thawing out its huge amounts of frozen credits, and to put a larger supply of currency in circulation. All these expedients have a temporary effect, but the fact remains—it is an economic truth—that if anything is inflated it must sooner or later be deflated again. In the end there must be a "writting down" or a "writting off" of liabilities beyond the ability of the debtor to pay.

Sooner or later some portion of the indebtedness of thousands of Western farmers must be written off, and the sooner the better for all concerned. A merchant is forced into bankruptcy, and pays fifty cents on the dollar. He is then free to make a new start, albeit his credit will not be as good as before. If a mortgage or loan company forecloses on a farm property and takes it over, it must ultimately re-sell that farm to some one else. It is almost certain that it will have to take a loss, selling the farm for less than the original liability against it. Would it not, then, be good business on the part of such loan or mortgage company to take the same loss, or even a somewhat larger one, right now, by consenting to a writing down the present farmer's liability to a point where he has a chance to "carry on" and pay? The property would thus once again become revenue producing to the company, although not perhaps to the extent originally expected. Nevertheless the company conceivably might otherwise have the land on its hands for some time, a bill of expense for taxes, etc. Surely, it would be better business to keep the present owner on the land in a position where he can add his mite to the general productivity and prosperity of the country.

One suggestion that is receiving increasing attention and support is that existing farm debts should be capitalized and amortized, that is, that payments of equal annual instalments covering both principal and interest spread over a term of years, 15, 20, 25 or 30 years, should be agreed upon. Surely, such a plan can be worked out without undue loss to anybody, and in such a manner as to ensure tenure of their homes to present occupants and an opportunity to ultimately free themselves of debt.

Unless something of the kind is done, it is almost a certainty that many Western farms will either be abandoned, or will pass through foreclosure proceedings, from their present owners and possibly remain idle in the hands of loan and mortgage companies, or as tax sale properties held by municipalities, for a goodly number of years to come, thus seriously retarding the production and development of the country, and imposing a check upon the prosperity of all, individuals, corporations and governments alike.

Tells Dyspeptics What To Eat

Strict Diets Often Unnecessary

It is a well known fact that some foods have a strong tendency to produce indigestion. By omitting from daily meals those foods which experience grows do not tolerate and limiting the diet to certain staples, indigestion in many instances may be slowly overcome. Numerous foods, however, which are in many instances, are due to excessive acidity and the presence of irritating substances in the stomach. Keep the stomach clean and sweet by freeing it of the extra acid and then sufferers can eat the foods that they like and as much as they want in reason and have no stomach trouble at all. Thousands of people do this daily by merely taking after meals the powerful, soothing, and healing, which can be had at any good drug store, or else by the use of the famous Bismarck's Instantly Neutralizing Stomach Acid, stops food fermentation and makes digest as naturally and easily as the stomach of a healthy child. Stomach comfort means a lot and most of the good eating habits that enjoy them by making Bismarck's Stomach Acid your daily after-eating protection.

President Of Biscuit Company Tells Success Story and What Constituent Advertising Will Do

A romance of modern business that should be, an aspiration to every small store-keeper was told to newspaper men today (Friday, February 26th) by Mr. C. E. Edmonds, President of Christie, Brown and Company, Limited, who is completing his fifty-sixth year of service with the company.

Mr. Edmonds, who can recall personally much of the rise of the Christie, Brown organization, told how the giant biscuit company was started in a small store on Yonge Street, Toronto, by two men with a working capital of probably not more than $500. Today the business they founded is capitalized at millions of dollars and is the largest industry of its type in Canada. It has two manufacturing plants in the East, another—the million dollar Winnipeg plant opened last week—in the West and thirteen distributing branches from Halifax to Vancouver.

The simple history of Christie, Brown and Company as told by the active executive president is this: The business began in 1849 when two young men, James Mathers and Alexander Brown formed a partnership in a small store in Toronto to make biscuits. They had with them as assistant salesman, William Christie, who was destined to become a partner and eventually play an important part in Canada's biscuit making industry.

The biscuits sold from this small bakery became popular with a limited clientele and the business began to progress. Four years later Brown and Mathers retired and the business was handled by young William Christie. Mr. Brown, however, re-entered the company in 1861 and the Christie, Brown and Company, Limited was adopted.

Confederation of Canada in 1867 found the business firmly established as one of Canada's coming concerns. In 1871 and again in 1874 larger premises were necessary and it was systematic of the sales energy behind the organization that the first trans-Canada train had a Christie representative on board.

From that point the business has never looked back until today Christie biscuits are known round the world. The original store in Toronto has been replaced by three factories, one occupying nearly a whole downtown block in Toronto, the second Toronto factory occupying many thousands of square feet of floor space and the third, the new Winnipeg plant, is acknowledged the finest biscuit factory on the continent.

The original plant turned out a very small variety of biscuits. Today over 500 lines are marketed.

And according to Mr. Edmonds, is the real key to success in the Christie, Brown organization. It has consistently maintained a high standard of quality in its products and has advertised steadily in good times and bad, using newspapers from coast to coast, year in and year out.

Engineer Was Humane

Travelled Sixty Miles To Free a Trapped Dog
Engineer A. W. Fox set idly at the cabin window as the train roared past Bunker Hill in Indiana, thinking of little but the running of his huge locomotive. Then he noticed in a barb wire fence that, paralleled the railroad track, a house dog struggling and unable to extricate its foot from the wire.

When the train arrived at Logansport, Fox turned it over to another engineer, took an automobile and drove 30 miles to Bunker Hill to free the dog.

CARTER'S LIVER PILLS

Manitoba Government Will See That Development At Churchill Will Be Along Proper Lines

Churchill, baby of the pioneer towns of the north, is to be brought up a good-natured child. She will be well-groomed and attractive, according to her guardian, the Manitoba Government. She will have at least as many accessories as can be provided her in the stress of these hard times, but she must not grow up too fast.

Thousands of Canadians would like to grow up with the far-north seaport on Hudson Bay, which is to be opened this summer. The province, zealously guarding the welfare of little Churchill, long-hoped-for prairie outlet to the sea, plans an orderly development that will assure the town against unemployment.

No squatters will be allowed to settle in the townsite, Hon. J. G. McKenzie, Minister of Natural Resources, has decided. Guided by painful experience in the cases of such settlements as Cranberry Portage and Flin Flon, in Manitoba's central mining district, where squatters have created a major problem to the government, Manitoba is going to see to it that Churchill thrives on a better-planned settlement.

Shortage of government funds may make Churchill's baptism a rather less pompous procedure than the administration hoped a few months ago. Mr. McKenzie said it had been originally planned to expend $150,000 in getting the town launched in proper fashion. Local conditions demand careful sanitary precautions in the form of adequate sewerage, a pure water supply and fire-proof buildings.

But such an amount of money will not be available this summer. For initial work making possible the town's opening, Mr. McKenzie expects an outlay of $50,000 will be necessary. This amount probably will be spent.

Hundreds of persons who want to start business in Churchill at the outset of the career have created a problem for Mr. McKenzie's department. Those who are given the right to open businesses, whether hotels, theatres or stores, will need capital back of them, the Minister said, as they will have to figure to a large degree on seasonal business.

The government does not want a horde of unemployed at Churchill during the long winters of inaction when the port is closed and business is at a standstill. Those in the government service who have charge of plans for the town say it would be cruel to allow a population to get started there which would be without the means to get proper shelter, food and fuel during the winter.

So the slogan for Churchill will be orderly development "within the bounds of reason." The population to start with must of necessity be very small, within the bounds of what work and business is necessary.

There will be railway yards, ocean commerce, docks, grain elevators, warehouses and other basic businesses to start with. In time industry will develop on Dominion property, which will be leased for industrial purposes. The province, though owning the townsite, has no land for industrial purposes.

It was pointed out by Mr. McKenzie that nothing would be gained by allowing people to rush hither-thither into Churchill. It will not be a boom-town, no land speculation will be permitted. All property will be leased by the province. No one will be allowed to obtain property and then hold it for a long time without developing it.

The flimsy houses, tents and other traditional phenomena that rose in bygone boom-towns will not be a feature of Churchill's early life. First buildings are expected to be fire-proof hotels and well constructed boarding houses. To permit any other launching of the town, it is held, would retard its proper development for many years.

It is likely that a temporary sewerage system will be installed this summer for the hotels and boarding houses that may be built.

Garden In Death Valley

Recent Rains May Duplicate Phenomenon Of Two Years Ago

Death Valley in California, may become a veritable flower garden this spring.

Recent rains, the heaviest in years, have created a lake fifty miles long. The sink of Death Valley, several hundred feet below sea level, is the lowest spot in the United States. Generally rains, when they fall in the valley, vanish quickly in the intense heat.

Returning from a trip to the Valley, Percy Britte, chairman of the Bakersfield Board of Supervisors, brought news of Death Valley's latest marvel.

Those acquainted with the district expect the valley to reproduce the unusual phenomenon of two years ago, when a series of rains caused dormant seeds to sprout and the valley became a wilderness of brilliant wild columbine, blue larkspur, delphinium, blue bells, daisies, wild geranium, buttercups, poppies, Indian paint brush and cactus flowers.

Canadian Trade Ship

Returns To Canada After A Two Months' Cruise Through Caribbean Sea

After a successful two months' cruise through the Caribbean sea, the S.S. New Northland, Canadian trade exhibition ship, returned to Halifax, recently.

The vessel, referred to as "the floating show window" of Canada, left Halifax on January 8. Since that date she has called at Bermuda, the Leeward Islands of St. Kitts, Nevis, Antigua, Montserrat and Dominica, Barbados, the Windward Islands of St. Lucia, St. Vincent and Grenada, Trinidad, British Guiana, Jamaica, Cuba and the Bahamas.

Canadians on board, representatives of governments and businesses, were in an advantageous position to see and learn about business conditions in the West Indies. The party regarded the trip as successful in its mission of establishing business connection and promoting goodwill.

A desire was evident to use Canadian goods in preference to United States articles. It was stated, this feeling arising from the Canada-War Industries treaty of 1925, partly from the service offered by the Canadian National "Lady" Boats and partly because of the strong pro-Empire feeling which exists.

While no figures were available, representatives of firms which sent exhibits on the boat secured many valuable orders while in the south and established contacts which may be expected to produce much business in the future.

Disarmament Question

The mere reduction or abolition of the modern defensive armaments of peace-loving nations, of which Great Britain is second to none, cannot prevent war. Scythes and bill-hooks proved themselves, in olden times, formidable weapons of offence, and so they would again if the manhood of any virile nation could offensive measures necessary to procure the necessities of life for themselves, their wives and families.—J. E. T. Harper in the National Review (London), England.

Europe's oat production last year was greater than in 1930.

Great Bear Lake Area Believed To Be One Of The Richest Mining Regions In The World

The Silver Lining

People Live Longer During Depression Says B.G. Professor

Depressions have their silver lining, according to Prof. H. F. Angus, head of the Department of Economics and Sociology at the University of British Columbia.

"You live longer when there's a slump in business, unless you are one of those unfortunates who feel the situation so keenly that you jump from the tenth story or borrow a gun," said Prof. Angus.

The death rate records of 33 cities in Canada for 1931 were 45,819, compared with 47,235 in 1930, a drop of three per cent.

"You see, economic conditions in years of depression force the majority of us to adopt a simpler form of living," explained Prof. Angus. "There is less over-eating, less night life and luxurious habits."

Enforced diets in many cases have led to abandonment of rich foods, he added. Industrial accidents had also been lessened by the curtailment of factory operations.

"However, it isn't only the depression that has given us a lower death rate," he said. "Better knowledge of sanitation, control of disease and general intelligence of the public in health matters in civilized countries are really the chief factors."

Railway Officials Retire

Announcement was made recently of the retirement of two prominent traffic department officials of the Canadian National Railways. H. H. Melanson, assistant traffic vice-president, and Thomas Lorne MacDonald, freight traffic manager, central region. The retirement of Mr. Melanson, concluding 43 years' service, was effective March 9, and that of Mr. MacDonald, which terminated 45 years' service, on March 15.

Where there's a will there's usually a contestant.

School memories of Great Bear Lake are due for a rigid revision in the light of discoveries of prodigious mineral wealth in that region. Early maps revealed a huge wilderness between Edmonton and the icy shores of the Arctic in which Great Bear Lake was the last of several large bodies of water, lonely and remote. Students often wondered at the mysterious ways of nature in creating so large an area for no apparent purpose.

Dr. Charles Cammell, Deputy Minister of Mines for Canada, speaking in the conservative manner of the scientist, told a Sundry audience of mining men of his hopes for the new mining region, which is so rich in various minerals, especially pitchblende, the ore that carries radium.

"It appears the pitchblende deposits will be as rich as, and possibly richer than any of the other known deposits in the world," he said. The importance of this find from the standpoint of the treatment of cancer may be imagined. In the same address Dr. Cammell said the value of the mineral products of Canada exceeded the value of the wheat crop, a statement doubtless based on the recent low price of wheat.

Only the aeroplane has made the wealth of Great Bear Lake something of practical importance. As long ago as 1771 Samuel Hearne brought news of great wealth in native copper from the Coppermine River, which flows into the Arctic further east toward Hudson Bay. Physical difficulties made exploration of this region impossible for the next century and a half. Enough has been revealed in recent years to show the triangle between the Mackenzie River, Great Bear Lake and the shore of the Arctic west of the Coppermine, is one of the richest mining regions of the world.—Toronto Globe.

One Of Hardest Jobs

Faced By Mounties In Recent Hunt For Trapper

Truth, they say, is stranger than fiction. And had any novelist written an imaginative story corresponding to the truth behind the hunt in the sub-Arctic regions of Canada for the "crazy" trapper, Johnson, it might have been regarded as far-fetched.

Those who sit in comfort here can have little conception of the hardships and adventures the posse of Royal Canadian Mounted Police and their aides experienced, while pursuing this extraordinary man in the Arctic wastes. He had illimitable space to manoeuvre in and he was lured to cold. Had he not been an exceptional man himself, plus having a mental kink that made him impervious to suffering, he would have been run down long before, or succumbed to the rigorous conditions. Right to the dramatic and he put up a remarkable fight and died with his boots on.

Tough as the Mounted Police are, this was one of the hardest jobs, if not the hardest, they had ever tackled. But they lived up to their name and faith, as they always do. They may well pray, however, to be delivered from such an adventure again for it cost the life of one gallant man and serious injuries to two others.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

ROUSING WELCOME GIVEN WORLD HOCKEY CHAMPIONS ON RETURN FROM CONQUESTS

When Canada's Olympic hockey champions, the Winnipeg, returned a few days ago to the Manitoba capital after their conquest of the amateur hockey citadels of the world, they were accorded a wildly enthusiastic welcome by the home-town supporters. Thousands of Winnipeg's most rational citizens forgot decorum as they tossed hats in the air, thumped each other on the back and shouted themselves hoarse in honor of the champions. Long lines of impressive floats and gaily decorated cars participated in an enormous parade that proceeded through crowded streets from the Canadian National station to the Amphitheatre rink, where the Winnipeggers were officially welcomed by civic and government officials. Wonderful Vitality.

"I have had attacks of the 'flu' frequently since 1919, and sometimes bad attacks, but always when on the road to recovery I take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I find them a wonderful pick-me-up."

So writes E. M. Ward, Saskatoon, Sask., who further states: "I would recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all sufferers from that rundown, listless feeling. I have taken the Pills on many occasions, and they seem to tone up my blood wonderfully. I have been anemic for years, and find that when I get run-down, after taking several boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the color comes back to my cheeks and I have wonderful vitality."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills rebuild health by creating new blood and increasing the red blood cells which restore the wasted tissues and revitalize the exhausted system. They remove the cause of rundown or nervous conditions. Try them. At your druggist's. 50c a package. 71

But not for long!

"I started taking Kruschen Salts for biliousness, and for the last two years I have been perfectly free from an attack. Now I continue to take them, as I find they keep me in perfect health. My husband used to joke about me taking Kruschen Salts; now he takes them himself, so do my children. My sincere thanks."

—Mrs. G. P. P.
When your gastric or digestive juices refuse to flow, your food instead of becoming absorbed into your system, simply collects and ferments inside you, producing harmful acids and gases which give rise to biliousness, heartburn and flatulence.

Kruschen is a combination of six mineral salts, which goes right to the root of the trouble. It first stimulates the flow of gastric and other juices to aid digestion, and then ensures complete, regular and unflinching elimination of waste matter every day. And that means a blessed end to biliousness, and renewed and whole-hearted enjoyment of your food without the slightest fear of having to pay the old painful penalty.

FREE TRAIL OFFER

If you have never tried Kruschen—try it now at our expense. We have distributed a great many boxes of Kruschen Salts. It is easy for you to prove our claim for yourself.

Would Purchase Large Farm

Inquiry For Land Is Received By Prince Albert Board Of Trade

Two young married men with the highest possible academic education in agriculture obtainable in Europe, may be established on a 2,000 or 3,000 acre farm in northern Saskatchewan, if suitable land is available.

They are desirous of immigrating to Canada and engaging in farming. Their brother, Dr. Alex. H. H. Dayton, Ohio, stated in a letter received by Prince Albert Board of Trade.

Dr. Rab asks the Board of Trade for agricultural possibilities in this district, and ideas about the amount of undeveloped farm land, the condition of soil as to productivity of crops and pasturage, the climate with reference to animals and crops, as well as general facts.

He intends to help his brothers financially as much as he is able, and wants to obtain a site of about two or three thousand acres, not very far from a city. Dr. Rab thinks this land ought to bring returns to those developing it in about fifteen or sixteen years.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 20

JESUS DIES ON THE CROSS

Golden Text: "Christ died for our sins according to the scriptures." 1 Corinthians 15:3.
Lesson: John 18:1 to 19:42.
Devotional Reading: Romans 5:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Trial Of Jesus, verses 1-16—"We see the various actors in the drama—Caiaphas, Herod, Pilate—all falling into place, as at some mystic signal; each doing something that had to be done, each doing something dictated by the grossness of his nature, and thus something for which he is answerable; but also doing something that was an unconscious fulfillment of a program; and Jesus Himself passing through all these scenes with the sublime steadfastness of one who knows that this must be. This is the joy of the cross. Jesus has not lost His way. He moves steadily to His goal. He is no victim of accident—at every step something was done that the will of God made necessary and inevitable."

—W. J. Dawson.

On the Way To Calvary and Crucifixion, verses 17-19—"Roman soldiers threw a red cloak around Jesus, placed a crown of thorns upon His head, and walked with Him, struck Him, and jeered Him. When wearied of this sport they led Him away to be crucified. This procession started with a herald at the head bearing a board on which was written the Prisoner's 'crime.' Jesus of Nazareth, the King of the Jews. After Him came a centurion with four soldiers, closely guarded by Roman soldiers, and followed by a motley crowd of men and women, enemies and sympathizers with Jesus, priests and disciples.

Through the city gate they went. Jesus' strength failed; He was unable to stagger along under His cross. The soldiers themselves would not carry it, and meeting Simon of Cyrene, they compelled him to carry it on to the hill called Golgotha, or Calvary. There Jesus was nailed to the cross erected, with the thieves on either side of Him.

Jesus' Solitude For His Mother, verses 25-27. With the loyal women friends who stood by the cross—Salome, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene—was Mary His mother.

"If I were hanged on the highest hill I know whose love would follow me still."

Mother 'o mine."—Kipling.

Jesus looked upon His mother and upon John, and said to Mary, "Woman, behold thy son," and to John, "Behold thy mother."

The Death Of Jesus, verses 28-30. Read here Matthew 27:45, 46; Mark 16:33, 34. John records Jesus' cry, "I thirst," and at the same time writes, "that the scripture might be accomplished." This does not mean that Jesus uttered the cry so as to fulfil scripture, but that, as John, looked back upon the scene in later years he saw, as he wrote, that it did fulfil scripture.

Near at hand was a vessel full of vinegar, the "sour" or wine, which was the usual drink of Roman soldiers. A sponge was fastened to the end of a branch of hyssop, filled with the vinegar, and held up for Him to drink. Jesus received it, and then exclaimed, "It is finished," as His heart felt His spirit left Him. Finished, in the sense of ended, were His sufferings, and finished, in the sense of completed, was His sacrificial offering. "It is a triumphant exclamation, meaning: 'God's will is obeyed; man's redemption is secured; immortal victory is won; Heaven is open to man; the gloom of the grave is changed into the glory of resurrection and ascension with Christ!'"

Trying Out Experiment For Upper Berth In Pullman

The occupant of a lower berth will be able to sleep soundly in the future without worrying about somebody stepping in his face trying to get into the upper berth. Nor will he be disturbed in the middle of the night by the Pullman porter dragging a step ladder up the aisle for some beleated passenger. Orders have been sent out to six permanent ladders on the side of all upper berths on trains operating between New York and Washington. If the experiment is successful, all Pullman cars will be so equipped. The ladders are folded out to the bedding compartment of the upper berth during the day.

VALERA ELECTED PRESIDENT OF IRISH FREE STATE

Dublin, Ireland.—Eamon de Valera was elected president of the Irish Free State, Wednesday, March 9, by a vote in the Dail Eireann of 81 to 68.

The ministry is wholly Finne Fall—the De Valera party which, translated, means soldiers of destiny—and Labor, whose handful of votes will be needed to keep the De Valera government alive, was not represented.

The ministerial announcement was greeted with cheers from the galleries and from the Fianna Fail benches. The old government party, headed by former President, William T. Cosgrave, had gone over to the benches allotted to the opposition, with Mr. Cosgrave occupying the seat so long filled by Mr. De Valera.

Voicing his opposition to the De Valera election, retiring President Cosgrave, declared: "I propose to give every opportunity to Mr. De Valera to develop his policy. We do not want an explanation policy; we want to see what he is going to do."

The De Valera victory never was in doubt. When the dail assembled after Catholic and Protestant religious services—Mr. De Valera and Mr. Cosgrave knelt near one another during solemn mass—the Fianna Fail put Frank Fahy in nomination for speaker. Mr. Fahy, one of the founders of the Irish volunteers in South Galway, was elected 78 to 71.

Then the youthful Deputy Kilroy proposed Mr. De Valera for the presidency. The motion was seconded by Deputy Traynor and was given support by two independents whose votes had been doubtful, Deputies J. Dillon and O'Hanlon.

There was silence as the count was taken and then a burst of cheering when it was certain that Mr. De Valera had been elected.

The dail then adjourned while Mr. De Valera, called on Governor-General James McNeill for an interview, the nature of which was not divulged, and for the purpose of receiving his formal appointment.

Dr. Grisdale To Retire

Deputy Minister of Agriculture Will Be Supersannuated

Ottawa, Ont.—The supersannuation of Dr. J. H. Grisdale as Deputy Minister of Agriculture was announced by Robert Weir, Minister of that Department. Dr. Grisdale suffered a breakdown in health about a week ago and as a result asked for his supersannuation, which has been granted. He had been Deputy Minister since 1919.

In making the announcement the minister expressed regret that one who had been so long in the service should find it necessary to ask for his supersannuation on account of illness, which, no doubt, had been due to his arduous duties in the department. Dr. Grisdale will receive $18 months' leave with pay as from April 3, after which the supersannuation takes effect. No successor to Dr. Grisdale has yet been chosen.

Preparing For Conference

Manufacturers In Canada Have Been Discussing Empire Trade

Toronto, Ont.—Preparatory work for the Imperial Economic Conference being held next July at Ottawa is proceeding in a promising manner. It was reported to the council of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in executive session here. Numerous meetings of groups of manufacturers have been held to discuss British Empire trade, particularly trade between Canada and Great Britain, and considerable information has been collected.

Millionaires In Britain

London, England.—Great Britain has 540 "millionaires" according to the annual report of the inland revenue commissioners compiled on the basis of incomes exceeding £50,000 assessed for surtax last year. The report also stated there were 157 incomes exceeding £100,000 for the same period.

France Must Import Wheat

Placing Of A Fresh Duty On Canadian Grain Is Unlikely

Paris, France.—Reports that the French Government will place a fresh duty on Canadian wheat on the expiration of the Franco-Canadian trade treaty next June have no substantiation. It was learned the government has not reached any decision, and such action is described as very improbable.

It is pointed out France is bound to import wheat, as her own production is short, and duties would merely increase the cost of bread to the consumer without benefiting the domestic wheat producer. If any such action were taken it would have to be done under the so-called "padlock act" which authorizes the government to increase duties on certain products, mostly foodstuffs, including wheat, by decree without previous notice.

The ministry of agriculture put into force drastic restrictions on the importation of fresh fruits and live plants, which affected Canada among other countries. This however is a routine step to guard against the introduction of the parasite known as the "San Jose louse," which is of Californian origin.

Alberta Income Tax

Said To Be Least Drastic Of Any Of The Western Provinces

Edmonton, Alberta.—Adoption of a provincial income tax is inevitable if Alberta is to balance its budget, declared Premier J. E. Brownlee in the legislature, in moving second reading of the new tax under which the government expects to raise $1,374,000.

Alberta would have the least drastic income tax schedule of any of the western provinces, the premier declared. He also remarked that even with the new imports Alberta would compare favorably with Manitoba as the lowest taxed of any of the western provinces.

Criticism of the new taxation bill was made by F. H. White, Labor, Calgary, who said the tax encroached too much on the wages of single and married workers, and should be reformed.

Premier Outlines Seed Plan

Federal Government Proposes Loan To Three Prairie Provinces

Ottawa, Ont.—The position which the Dominion Government has taken in respect to supplying seed and feed for farmers in the prairie provinces was outlined in the House of Commons by Premier R. B. Bennett.

In brief, the government proposed to advance the necessary monies by way of loans to the three prairie provinces. The provinces would give title to the Dominion their own treasury bills in return. In the case of the Province of Manitoba, Mr. Bennett said, "something less than $700,000 would take care of requirements."

Back To The Garden

Gardening The Solution Of Present Day Ills Says University Professor

Vancouver, B.C.—"Back to the garden" rather than "back to the land," is the solution of many of present day ills, said Dr. A. F. Bars, Department of Horticulture, University of British Columbia, in an address before the Local Council of Women.

"Everyone hears the slogan, 'back to the land,' as being the cure of all economic ills," Dr. Bars said. "This is not the solution for everyone. Rather let them say 'back to the garden,' for there a large majority may find nourishment for the body and at the same time a cure for the soul."

Completes Long Journey

Winnipeg Man Hiked To Vancouver And Back

Winnipeg, Man.—Harry E. Sherman, the hardy hiker who set out for Vancouver from Winnipeg on June 13, 1931, has returned here after covering more than 3,800 miles on foot. Sherman walked the 1,579 miles to Vancouver in 49½ days, but severe weather conditions and tired muscles slowed him considerably on the return journey and five months have elapsed since he left the Pacific Coast city on October 6. En route, he gave addresses at 563 schools.

Thousands Honor Briand

People Of All Classes Showed Affection For Dead Statesman

Paris, France.—More than 10,000 persons—porters, shopkeepers, statesmen, and all intermediate ranks—filed through Aristide Briand's bedroom to do homage to the dead "Apostle of Peace."

By nightfall M. Briand's apartment was filled with flowers. These tributes ran all the way from an imposing place set by the German ambassador to single carnations left there by midwives and wounded war veterans.

The family of the French statesman, who succumbed to a heart attack, was so touched by the genuineness of the affection shown him that the room was kept open two hours and forty minutes longer than had been planned.

School Children Insured

Protection Against Accident For Students At Moose Jaw

Moose Jaw, Sas.—Moose Jaw enjoys the unique position at the present time of being the first city in Canada and possibly on the North American continent to have an accident insurance policy covering school children.

A plan to cover students up to $100 expenses in case of accident was presented to the members of the school boards and adopted.

The school boards, approximately one year ago, considered insurance plans for school children and at a recent meeting the members re-affirmed the stand they had taken at that time.

Crop Failure In Russia

Forty Million Peasants Will Require Food Relief

Riga, Latvia.—Official reports from Moscow confirm that no fewer than 40,000,000 Russian peasants, affected by the failure of the harvest in various parts of Russia last fall, will require food relief.

The districts affected are the Urals, West Siberia, the middle and lower Volga basins, Bashkya and the northern parts of the Caucasus. The combination of the shortage and the necessity of supplying these peasants with grain has radically interfered with the Soviet Government's spring sowing program.

In the Ukraine in particular the backwardness of preparations for the spring sowing is causing Moscow great anxiety. According to official reports, not more than half of the grain required for sowing is ready.

The despatch of 1,000,000 tons of grain to the distressed regions was decreed by Josef Stalin, Soviet dictator, last month, but the movement is proceeding slowly because the Soviet railways are unable to cope with the additional traffic. Another hampering factor is the reluctance of affected districts to relinquish grain which officials contend is stored up.

Manitoba Farm Loans Board

Increased Deficit Is Shown For Fiscal Year Ended April 30, 1931

Winnipeg, Man.—Deficit of the Manitoba Farm Loans Association increased from $168,874.18 to $1,022,203 during the fiscal year ended April 30, 1931, according to a report submitted to the legislature by the Manitoba Farm Loans Board along with an audit report of the association.

The report was the first made by the new board, which took over direction of the association's activities in 1930.

Operating expenses of $85,197.31 and writing off of $768,159.44 under the board's new policy, accounted for the greatly-increased deficit, it was explained.

In an explanation of the association's condition, the report found fault with previous operation of the association. "The scheme could not have been a complete success from the commencement," it remarks setting out that the margin between the cost of the money borrowed for the purpose of making loans and the rate of interest charged the farmer-borrower was insufficient.

Russian Force Doubled

Soviet Garrison In Siberia Has Been Greatly Increased

Tokyo, Japan.—The Japanese Consul at Khabarovsk, Siberia, reported to the foreign office that the Soviet garrison there approximately had doubled in the last month.

Japanese authorities professed not to be alarmed, however, in spite of repeated reports of the sending of Soviet reinforcement troops in western Siberia. The war office estimated that the total Russian forces along the Ussuri frontier now is 50,000.

EXPORT MARKET FOR GRAIN IS MUCH STRONGER

Fort William, Ont.—There is a more optimistic ring to the report issued by the statistical branch of the board of grain commissioners dealing with the movement of western Canadian grain during February. The international export market is ready to absorb more export grain, southern hemisphere wheat is being used up and the Canadian carryover is likely to be much smaller than last year. The report says in part:

"During the past month a decided improvement has taken place in the international wheat market and prospects for an increased export movement of Canadian wheat appears to be very good indeed. Both France and Italy have made substantial concessions by increasing the percentage of foreign wheat millers are permitted to grind, France to 25 per cent. and Italy to 60 per cent. in southern and 40 per cent. in northern regions respectively. Germany is reported to be in urgent need of wheat besides substantial quantities of rye which it has been obtaining from Russia.

"The exportable surplus of Danubian countries is reported as almost completely exhausted and there is little likelihood of much wheat being exported by Russia for some time. Supplies from the 1931 crops appear to be entirely inadequate for home requirements in certain regions and there is a possibility of considerable quantities for food and seed."

To Prevent Unemployment

Alberta Asks Federal Government To Adopt Jobless Insurance

Edmonton, Alberta.—Adoption of a national scheme of unemployment insurance was urged upon the Dominion Government in a resolution which was passed unanimously by the provincial legislature.

Moved by A. Smeaton, Labor, Lethbridge, the resolution read: "Resolved that this assembly, being of the opinion that the results of unemployment can only be properly and adequately prevented by a federal or national scheme of unemployment insurance, acceptable to the provinces, urged the federal government the immediate necessity of such legislation."

Ottawa, Ont.—The Dominion Government intends to carry out its promise to conduct an investigation into a contributory scheme of unemployment insurance with employers and workers participating. It was officially stated today in connection with a resolution passed in the Alberta legislature for a federal or national scheme of unemployment insurance.

U.S. Relief Measures

Forty Million Bushels Of Wheat Available For Humanitarian Purposes

Washington, D.C.—Within less than 24 hours after President Hoover had signed a bill making 40,000,000 bushels of the farm board's holdings available for humanitarian purposes, the Red Cross asked and received an allotment of 5,000,000 bushels.

From the board's elevators at Omaha, Nebraska, 14,000 bushels were immediately loaded into railroad cars and started for destinations in South Dakota where feed for livestock is needed.

Easter Recess For Commons

Ottawa, Ont.—The House of Commons will adjourn from Wednesday evening, March 23, until the following Tuesday, Premier Bennett indicated that this was the Easter recess proposed by the government. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, said he thought this would be satisfactory to his followers.

National Relief Fund

Toronto, Ont.—Slightly more than $250,000 has been subscribed to date to the National Emergency Relief Fund, announced by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, last December. Norman Sommerville, K.C., has stated. The total includes the amount raised under the Saskatchewan Emergency Relief Fund.

The Truth About Short Wave

Short wave reception opens up a new channel of entertainment possibilities. At the present time the ordinary radio receiver picks up broadcast signals from 550 meters to 200 meters. Short wave receivers enable the listener to cover all the band below 200 metres. These latter channels have been allotted to police-radio stations and airplanes, ships, amateur broadcasting stations, and to special long distance broadcasting stations both in America and Europe.

It would be untrue to state that short wave radios will give worldwide reception at all times. When reception conditions are unusually favorable it will be possible to pick up occasional European broadcasts.

The chief advantage of short wave is that it makes possible daylight reception in places where standard broadcasting fails to reach during the daytime and thereby assures consistently good reception for most of our broadcasting stations in Canada and U. S. at any time during night or day.

The broadcasts of police calls, ship to shore telephone conversations and airplane calls can be brought in with regularity.

Short wave reception will give a decided addition to the interest taken in radio entertainment. It provides the listener with the same thrill that was attached to radio in its early days.

The first of the play offs in the local hockey league was started on Tuesday evening between Onoway and Flyers on the local "covered" rink—that is, she was covered so much with snow that half the time the puck was not discernable. On Sunday evening last the St. Matthew Walthers League held their second skating party for the season. There was a fair attendance. Though the ice was a little soft, everyone enjoyed the skating until 11 o'clock, when refreshments were served. A collection was lifted, to pay for the rink. Jack Frost—King of Architects

Jack Frost, nature's greatest architect, completed yet another wonderful job, at Banff, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway through the Rocky Mountains, this winter, when he designed and built the columns of the ice-castle of the Carnival Queen. As in early years, the picture, the two great pillars are the outstanding feature of the palace. They were built by putting into play, one month before the opening of the great event, two vertical streams of water. Then, more men got busy and built the connecting wall of gleaming transparent ice-blocks, between the two pillars, and set in front of it the great throne of ice from which the ceremonies of the Carnival were conducted, in the presence of thousands of spectators from all parts of Canada and the United States. Snow and ice contests of all kinds, winter sports in profusion, including the Alberta Provincial Skating Championships, went to make up the programme, which terminated in the election of Miss Margaret J. Nicol, of Drumheller, Alta., well-known as a tennis and hockey enthusiast, as Carnival Queen for 1933. Her picture is shown inset.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

MARGARET FIEDLER

Author of "The Splendid Folly," "The Herald of Far Lands," "Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London."

"Don't look so blue!" Claire's voice broke in upon her gloomy trend of thought. She was laughing, and Jean was conscious of a sudden uprush of admiration for the young gay courage which could laugh even while it could not look forward. "After all, there are compensations in life. You're one of them, my Jean, as I've told you before! Now let's talk about something else."

Jean responded gladly enough, and presently Sir Adrian was temporarily forgotten in the little intimate half-hour of woman-talk which followed.

CHAPTER XV.

Lady Anne's Disclosure

"Well, have you enjoyed yourself?" enquired Lady Anne when Jean returned. "I suppose so, as you stayed to tea"—smiling—"Oh, I had tea with Claire. Sir Adrian was away—with a small grimace—"so we had quite a nice little time together. But, yes, madonna—"Jean had fallen into the use of the gracious little name which Blaise and Nick kept for their mother—"I really enjoyed myself very much. Judith was ever so much nicer than I expected."

"So now, I suppose, we shall all be side-tracked in favour of Burke and his sister?" put in Blaise, who had been listening quietly. There was a sharpness in his tones, as though the prospect did not please.

Jean smiled at him engagingly.

"Of course you will," she replied.

"I invariably side-track old friends when I get a chance."

"Oh, you'll get the chance right enough!"—rather sulkily.

"Yes, I think I shall"—demurely.

"Geoffrey has always been nice to me, and now Judith, too, has succumbed to my charms, and says she hopes we shall be good pals."

Tormarin rose, pushing back his chair with unnecessary violence.

"I don't think I see Judith Craig extending her friendship to Glyn Peterson's daughter," he commented cynically.

An instant later the door banged behind him and Lady Anne and Jean looked across at each other smiling, as women will when one of their kind proceeds to behave exactly like a cross little boy.

But a quick smile chased the smile from Lady Anne's lips.

"Poor old Blaise!" she murmured, as though to herself. Then, her grey eyes meeting Jean's squarely, she said quietly:

"Jean, you're so much one of us now, that I should like you to know what lies at the back of things. You'd understand—some of us—better."

Jean turned impulsively.

"I don't need to understand you," she said quickly, "I love you."

"Thank you, my dear," Lady Anne's voice trembled slightly. "If I were not sure of that, I shouldn't tell you what I am going to. But I want you to understand Blaise—and to make allowances for him, if you can."

Jean pulled forward a stool and settled herself at Lady Anne's feet.

"Do you mean about the 'mark of the beast'?" she asked, smiling a little. "Blaise told me to ask you about it one day."

"Did he? He thinks far too much about it and what it stands for!"—sadly. "It has come to be almost a symbol in his eyes. You see, he too has suffered from the family failing—the very failing that was responsible for that white lock of hair."

Lady Anne looked down at her thoughtfully.

"Well, there's no need for me to tell you that the Tormarins have hot tempers. You've seen evidences of it in Blaise—that sudden flaming up of anger. Though he has learnt enough of his own blither experience to hold himself more or less in check."

"She paused a moment, as if her thoughts had reverted painfully to the past. Presently she resumed: "All the Tormarin men have had it—that blazing uncontrollable kind of temper which simply cannot brook opposition. Blaise's father had it, and it was that which made our life together so unhappy."

"So Destiny had been busy with her snuffers here, also?"

"You—you, too?" whispered Jean.

"I, too?" Lady Anne questioned.

"What does that mean?"

"Why, it seems to me as if 'no one' is ever allowed to be really happy and to live their life in peace!"

There is Judith, whose life my father spoilt, and Claire, whose life Sir Adrian spoilt—and that means Nick's life as well. And now—you!"

Some unconscious instinct of remorse deep within her forbade the mention of Blaise Tormarin's name.

"I expect we are not meant to be too joyful," said Lady Anne. "Though, after all, it's largely our own fault if we are not. We make or mar each other's happiness: it isn't Fate. . . ."

But I've had my share of happiness, Jean—never think that I haven't. Afterwards, with Claude, I was utterly happy."

She fell silent for a space, ceasing on that quiet note of happiness. Presently, almost loth to disturb the reverie into which she had fallen, Jean questioned hesitantly:

"And the 'mark of the beast,' madonna? You were going to tell me about it."

"It came as a consequence of the Tormarin temper. That's why Blaise calls it the 'mark of the beast.' It was just before he was born—when I was waiting for the supreme joy of holding my first-born in my arms. Derrick—Blaise's father—was an extremely jealous-natured man. He hated to think that there had ever been anyone besides himself who cared for me. And there was one man, in particular, of whom he had always been foolishly jealous and suspicious. I can't imagine why, though!"

—with a little puzzled laugh. "You would think that the mere fact that I had married him, and not the other man, would have been sufficient proof that he had no cause for jealousy. But no! Men are queer creatures, and he always resented my friendship with John Lovett—which continued after my marriage. I had known John from childhood, and he was the sweetest fellow—a woman ever had!"

She sighed: "And I needed friends in those days! For somehow, brooding over things to himself, my husband conceived an idea that the little son who was coming was not his own child—but the child of John Lovett. I think someone must have poisoned his mind. There was a certain woman of our acquaintance whom I always suspected; she hated me and was very much attached to Derrick—she had wanted to marry him, I believe. In any case, he came home one evening, from her house, like a madman, and there was a scene. . . . a terrible scene. . . . he hurled accusations at me. . . . I won't talk of it, because he was so bitterly repentant afterwards. As soon as the fit of rage was past, he realized how utterly groundless his suspicions had been, and I don't think he ever ceased to reproach himself. But that has always been the way! The Tormarins have invariably brought the bitterest self-reproach upon themselves. One way or another, the same story of blind, reckless anger, and its consequences, has repeated itself generation after generation."

"And then? What happened then?" asked Jean in low, shocked tones.

"I was very ill—so ill that they thought I should not live. But I did live, and I brought my baby into the world. Only he was born with that white lock of hair, and my own hair had turned perfectly white."

Jean was silent for a little. At last she said softly:

"I'm so glad, madonna, that you were happy afterwards. 'Your house of dreams came true in the end!'"

"Yes"—Lady Anne's grey eyes were very bright and luminous. "My house of dreams came true."

After a while, she went on quietly:

"But my poor Blaise's house of dreams fell in ruins. The foundation was rotten. You knew, didn't you, that there was a woman he once cared for?"

Jean nodded. Speech was difficult to her just at that moment.

"It was a miserable business altogether. The girl, Nesta Freyne, was an Italian. Blaise met her when he was travelling in Italy, and—oh, well, it wasn't love! Not love as I know it."

"I Robbed Your Dresser Drawer"

"This My Signature"

A certain city had an epidemic of house robberies in daytime. The robbers would ring doorbells and if anyone answered, they would make some excuse and depart. But, if no one answered, they would break in through a window or a skylight. One such robber left his finger print on a broken piece of glass. The police had that print on file. They knew the robber, his gang and their records. The crooks were all picked up and convicted.

Germs in Every Print

This is told to remind you that we all leave finger prints on everything we touch. Most of these prints are germs. We pick them up from others—by handshakes—by touching things they have touched. Then we convey them to the mouth, where they breed, and so get into the system.

Life Extension Institute lists 27 diseases which may be conveyed in this way. The most common is a cold. A hand used to check a pulse or a cough may convey germs to others.

We cannot escape these germs. Every handshake, every touch conveys them. The best we can do is to remove the germs or render them harmless before they reach our food.

Safety This Way

Lifebuoy Soap is made to do this. Millions of people, in all countries of the world, protect themselves in this way. Lifebuoy contains an antiseptic. Careful laboratory tests have proved that Lifebuoy removes germs or makes them inactive.

Wash your hands with Lifebuoy often. Do this always before eating. Teach the children this habit, for safety's sake.

Stops Body Odour, Too

Lifebuoy is a beauty soap, made from two palm oils. No soap is better for your skin and complexion. Yet it offers you protection against germs every time you use it.

Also against body odour. Lifebuoy's creamy, abundant lather penetrates deep into the pores, cleansing them of the impurities that cause unpleasant odour. A bath with Lifebuoy, before you go on a party or before you start the day's work, insures you against body odour for many hours.

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's extra-clean scent of safety, which disappears in a few minutes, but tells you to purify—and protect.

Keep Lifebuoy handy on your wash basin and bath as all the family can use it. Your dealer has Lifebuoy for you. Why not adopt it today?

and as I think, one day, you too will know it. It blazed up, just one of those wild insinuations that sometimes spring into being between a man and woman, and almost before he had time to think, Blaise had married her."

"Married her!"

The words leapt from Jean's lips before she could check them. In the account of Tormarin's disastrous love affair which had been forced upon her hearing in London, there had been no mention of the word marriage, and she had always imagined that the woman, this Nesta Freyne, had simply jilted him in favour of another man. Moreover, since she had been at Staple, nothing had been said to correct this impression, as, very naturally, the subject was one avoided by general consent.

Hockey Gossip.

Any doubts that may have been in the minds of hockey fans as to which was the better local team was set at rest Thursday night, when the Flyers again downed Tigers—the second good wallop in forty eight hours.

Fans admit this was the best League game seen here this season, as each team put the best they had in it.

The only goal scored in the first period went to Tigers, beginning the second period. Flyers had their team completed and scored. At the end of this period the score stood: 1 all.

At the end of the third and last period the score was tied—2 each. In the 10-minute overtime Flyers scored twice, bringing their figures up to 4, against the Tigers' 2. Louis Enders was in goal for Tigers and had a busy evening. It's hardly necessary to state who the Flyers' goalie was, but his initials are Eddie Mayer. Mr. Louie Miller No. 2 was Ref.

Saturday's Lecture

The illustrated lectures on commercial fertilizer held in Stony Plain and Winterburn on Saturday were well attended, there being fifty or more farmers at each meeting. The lecturer, Mr T C MacBeath of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co., showed a large number of lantern slides that had been made from photographs of actual results in the field. Features brought out plainly by these slides was the earlier maturity, stronger straw, thicker and more uniform stand, suppression of weed growth, control of wireworm and cutworm injury, and greater resistance to wind damage shown by the fertilized crops.

Mr MacBeath concluded his lecture with a few slides showing the fertilizer plants at Trail, B.C. which are operated in connection with Company's huge smelter, one of the largest in the world.

The keen interest of the farmers in the matter was shown by the number of questions and amount of discussion which followed each meeting.

Many of the farmers were surprised to learn that the cost of fertilizer for this district runs at only 70c. to $1.20 per acre, depending on the rate of application. The lighter applications of 25 to 35 pounds per acre are recommended for grain on stubble, and the heavier applications of 35 to 45 pounds for wheat on summer fallow.
